

Prayer to St. Angela

Who has a heart filled with compassion?

Who is an inspiration to young women and their friends, you may ask? Who is someone that understands and cares for each person in this world? St. Angela, you have helped to fill my life, along with others, with love and respect toward God and my neighbors. Your spirit is with me in my prayers and everyday life as I attempt to follow in your footsteps. Thank you Saint Angela, for leading me down the right path.

Help us to understand that life is not perfect but a precious gift from you given to us through the spirit. Bless our hearts, give us strength, and fill us with compassion so that we may learn to care for all of our friends. Help us to become leaders so that the men and women around the world may be united as one through prayer. Amen.

Lord, thank you for sending a woman into this world of such love and compassion who would lead others to you, like Angela Merici. Her spirit inspired the hearts of her friends to live a life for you and pray to you. Her respect and caring for the less fortunate were so amazing. Her understanding to the less fortunate demonstrated her infinite dedication to you. Someone of such commitment and character could only be created by someone as wonderful and marvelous as you, God. Thank you for being so gracious. Amen.

Through prayer and acts of kindness, you were able to show the world the importance of service and I'm sure you've inspired many from this. I respect the dedication in your life and pray that it continues to inspire people all around the world. Amen.

Dear God, thank you for bringing Angela Merici into this world. During her lifetime she loved and respected everyone, not just her friends. Her heart was overflowing with compassion and your spirit shone right through her very being. She used love and kindness to lead women into the purposeful lives that they deserve. She had the devotion and care that most people never acquire. I only wish that I could have been alive to truly witness her amazing life, to have been privileged enough to simply pray along side her and to understand her fearless devotion to you. Please let me inspire another being as she has inspired me and so many others.

Christine Landry

Saint Angela, help us to try and follow the actions of your life, that we may take a stand as you did, be strong women, and live our lives with our hearts full of compassion and understanding. Inspire us to love and care for everyone of the world, especially in these times no matter what our difference.
